

KINDNESS

STARTS HERE!

This fortnight at Woodberry Down we're celebrating the power of kindness! You'll see it shining in our playground – children playing games together, inviting others to join in, lending a hand and cheering up friends who need a smile. These moments remind us that kindness doesn't have to be big to be meaningful.

WE DEAL WITH DISAGREEMENTS KINDLY!

WE ALWAYS TRY TO SHOW KINDNESS!

We are so fortunate to have our children showing us exactly what kindness really is and how to show it day in, day out. When we notice and nurture these caring actions we help our children grow into thoughtful, compassionate people who make the world a little brighter every day.

KINDNESS FOREVER

We asked our children what kindness means to them and they shared some wonderful ideas like “helping someone who is sad,” “sharing toys and games” and “including everyone in your games.” Some said it means saying something nice to make someone smile, helping a friend when they fall over or inviting someone new to join in. Many also talked about showing good manners, using words like please, thank you, pardon and hello. Their answers remind us that kindness isn’t just about big gestures – it’s about all the little things we do every day to care for each other. We are so lucky to see our children showing us how to be thoughtful, caring and compassionate in so many different ways.

WE INVITE NEW CHILDREN TO JOIN IN!

WE HELP OTHERS WHEN THEY FEEL SAD!

Families can help at home by encouraging acts of kindness, praising polite words like please, thank you, pardon and hello and showing children how to include and support others. Even small actions such as helping a sibling or saying something nice to a friend help children see that kindness matters.
